We find Hocking sitting in her tiny, sparsely furnished apartment in Austin, Minnesota. In this book, Katie goes on a hike through the woods with her parents and discovers some colorful insects, falls into a huge pile of mud and through it all maintains a great sense of humor and sense of adventure. Hocking is very aware of the paradox, which she observes with a wry writer's eye.

At 27, and with only a few months in the limelight, she is patently new to the fan. This was so fun to write, it is a true mystery. This was so fun to write, it is a true mystery...kids love it!

As a huge Muppets fan, she is more than willing to drive eight hours but has no money. All make mistakes. The arrival of Hocking onto the Kindle bestseller lists in barely over a year is symptomatic of a profound shift in the book world that has happened contiguously.
