There are about extant Greek manuscripts of Josephus, of which 33 predate the 14th century, with two thirds from the Comnenoi period. The three references found in Book 18 and Book 20 of the Antiquities do not appear in any other versions of Josephus' The Jewish War except for a Slavonic version of the Testimonium Flavianum at times called Testimonium Slavonium which surfaced in the west at the beginning of the 20th century, after its discovery in Russia at the end of the 19th century.
