All my thanks to the authors who go through the pain to create and place; however, he reads a bit disjointed when it comes to characterizations.

The nature of a collection of stories, make me start and stop. Hailed as one of the best short story writers of the s, Josip Novakovich was praised by the New York Times for writing fiction that has "the crackle of authenticity, like the bite of breaking glass.
Brendon Clarke-Coogan rated it really liked it Mar 02, His short stories, set primarily in Croatia, excellently convey the personal experiences of living in a war zone.

His grandparents had immigrated from the Croatia, then part of the Austro-Hu collection is about the weird nature of war, the grotesque and comical, and the choices that people have to make during war.
